Dr A. B. Lewis, Assistant Curator of Melanesian Ethnology in the Field Museum, Chicago, delivered a lecture on "Native Life and Industries in New Guinea," at the University Museum, Philadelphia, on February 27 of this year.

ANTHROPOLOGICAL field-work of the American Museum of Natural History will center chiefly in the Southwest. Mr N. C. Nelson continues his thorough and detailed exploration of the Galisteo pueblo district which is yielding the first definite stratigraphic data on the archeology of the Southwest. Arrangements for coöperation with the University of Colorado have been made by which similar systematic work will be carried on in Southern Colorado. Ethnological work in the Southwest will be restricted to the problems of relationship and social organization: Professor A. L. Kroeber will work at Zuñi and Dr R. H. Lowie among the Hopi. Later in the summer Dr Lowie will continue his study of the Shoshonean tribes of Nevada. Rev. Gilbert L. Wilson will further elaborate his exhaustive studies of Mandan-Hidatsa material culture. In the vicinity of New York City Mr Alanson Skinner will proceed with the special archeological survey of Long Island and the study of certain rock-shelters in New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Mr Leslie Spier will continue the archeological work in Central New Jersey begun last year.

THE museum of the California Academy of Sciences has recently acquired the entire Lowe collection of Indian baskets, pottery, stone implements, Navajo and Chilkat blankets, and miscellaneous objects of Indian manufacture and use. This collection comprises more than 1,500 Indian baskets, and several hundred pieces of pottery and miscellaneous objects. The collection of baskets, which is said to be one of the most complete and valuable in existence relating to the Pacific coast tribes, is the result of many years devoted to the subject by the late Professor and Mrs T. S. C. Lowe, of Pasadena. The collection comes to the academy as an indefinite loan through the generosity of Hon Wm. M. Fitzhugh, of San Francisco. Mr Fitzhugh not only gives the collection, but will also meet all the expenses of labeling, card cataloguing, providing cases of the best type and installing the collection in the academy's new museum building now under construction in Golden Gate Park.—Science.

THE following course of lectures was given at the University Museum, Philadelphia:

February 20. Dr Edith H. Hall, of the University Museum, Paintings from Aegean Palaces.
